

To whom it may concern:

Pumba and Lilly are Domesticated miniature potbelly house pigs. They are Emotional support animals. They are not farm animals nor a pet, they are working animals. Pumba and Lilly have been a blessing for us. They provide the comfort and support for our mental health.

Pumba and Lilly are brother and sister. They are fixed and live, eat, and sleep in the house. They use a dog door to go in and out as they please to a fenced backyard. No further outside accommodations are necessary. By having Pumba and Lilly, Our mental health has improved greatly. It would be devastating to my wife and I if we lost Pumba and Lilly, They are Family.
