

The Indian River Lagoon: A Treasure Worth Saving

Laurilee Thompson
laurileethompson@aol.com

An aerial photograph showing a dense field of green seagrass (Halodule) in a lagoon. The seagrass is interspersed with shallow, blue water channels that create a complex, winding pattern across the landscape. The overall scene is a healthy, natural wetland environment.

Halodule Seagrass
Mosquito Lagoon
East of Haulover Canal
September 2023

00:03.54

 TikTok
@joshg_photos

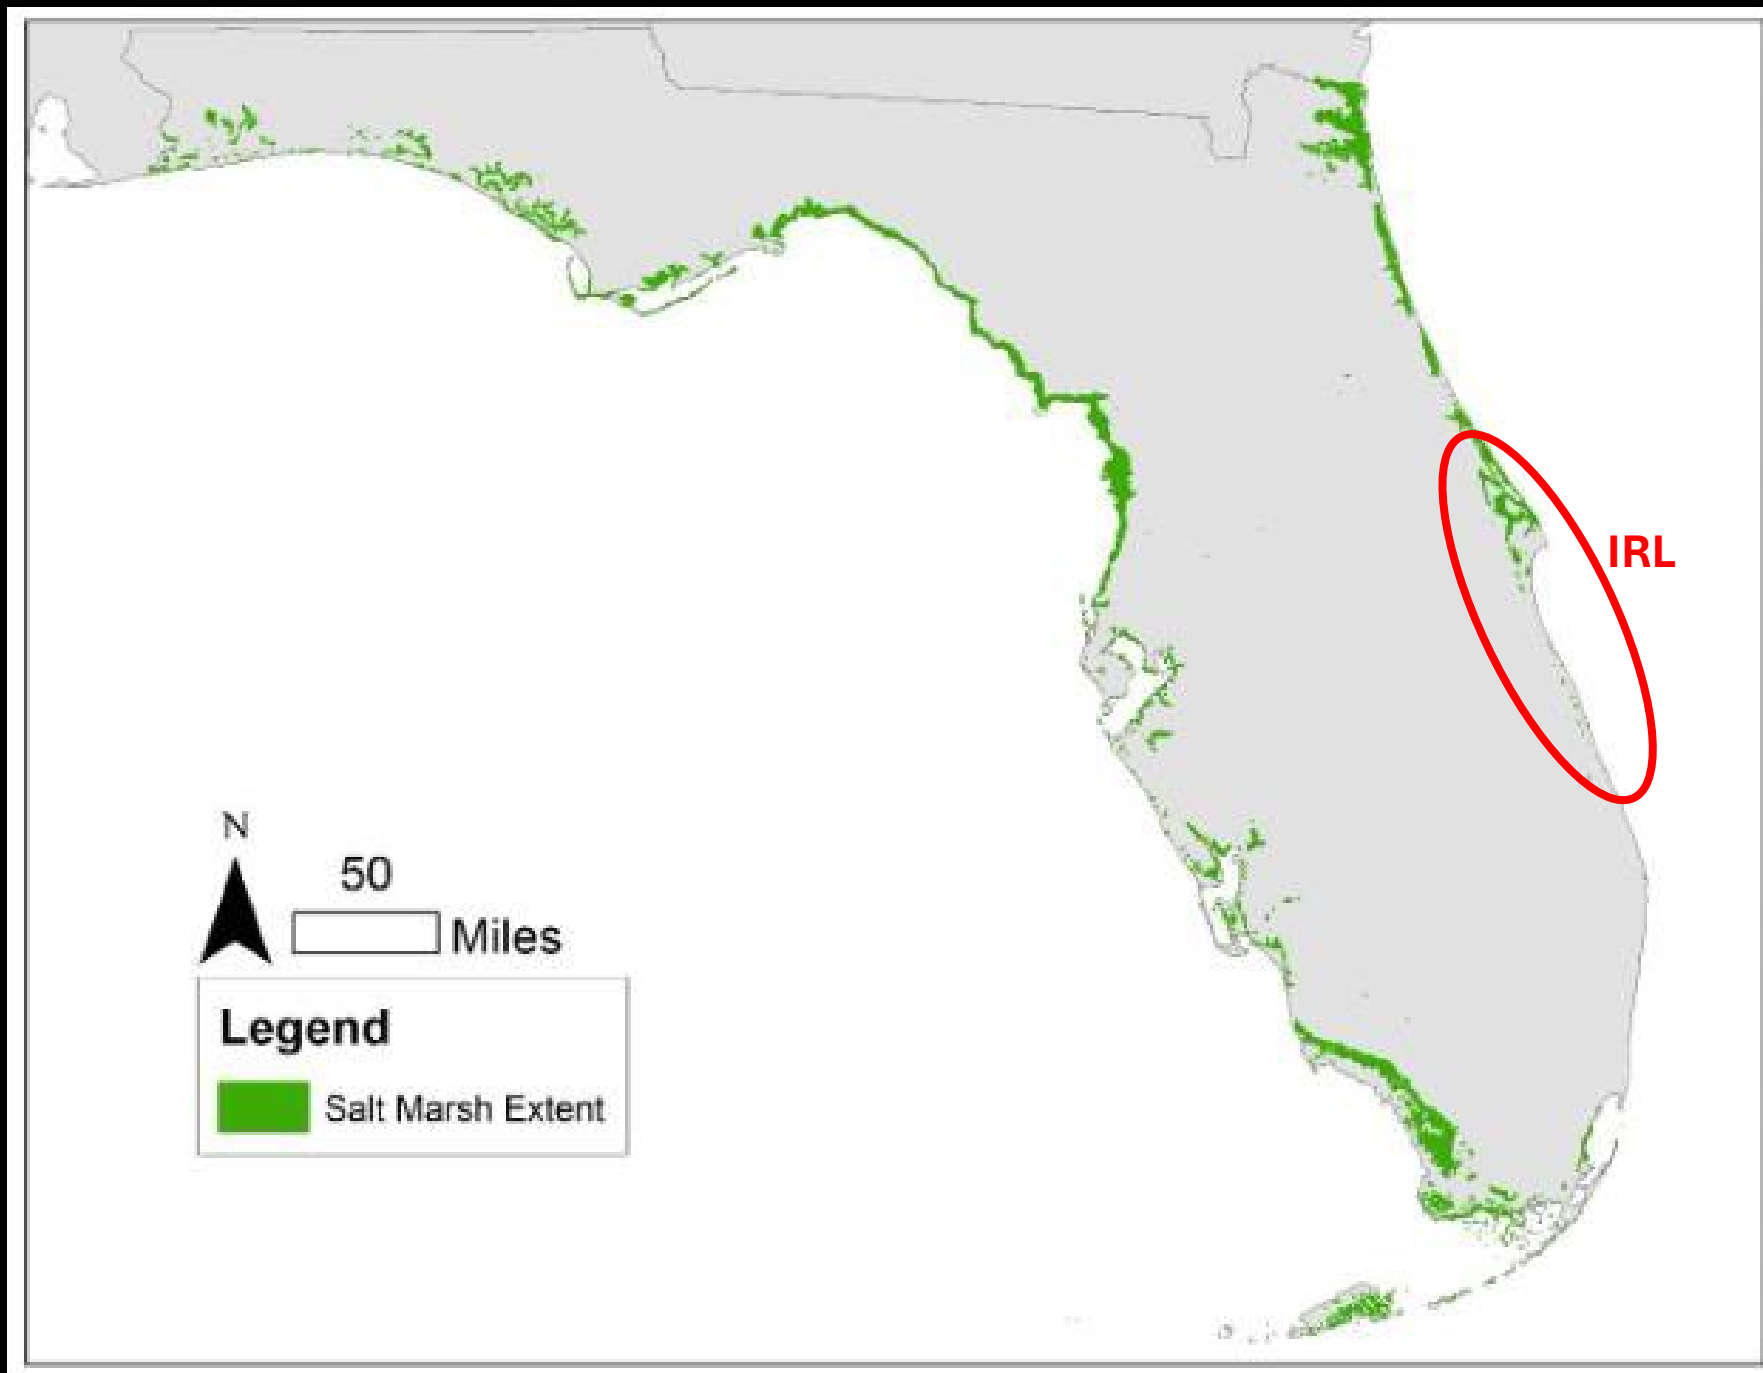

Staff photos
Rodney Thompson and his daughter Laurilee stand with a statue of 'Mr. Rock,' the mascot for Dixie Crossroads Seafood Restaurant in Titusville.

A shrimp's tale

How a throw-away crustacean became the rock one Florida family built the legendary Dixie Crossroads restaurant upon.

Seagrass at Scottsmoor
Landing Northern
Indian River Lagoon
August 2024

00:11.28

Photo Courtesy of Indian River Lagoon National Estuary Program

Save
THE LAGOON