Hi I live right down the street from where this house is supposed to be built. I am not opposed to the house being built but I am opposed to the county not doing anything out in this area to help with too much water. We live in one of the oldest houses and therefore are the lowest. People keep building houses all around us and they keep getting higher and higher. My husband has to pump water out of the yard when we have a little too much rain or we would flood. We have lived in this house over 30 years and I have only seen the ditches get cleaned out once in all that time. Most are clogged and the water does not flow like it should.

If you would like to discuss further, please contact me.

Thanks
